By Allen D. Payton

During their meeting on Wednesday, July 6, 2022, the Los Banos City Council unanimously adopted the First Amended Groundwater Sustainability Plan to address four potential deficiencies and approved a two structure, eight-unit multi-family housing project by Stonefield Home on F Street.

Approve Amended Groundwater Sustainability Plan

During a public hearing, the council adopted the First Amended Groundwater Sustainability Plan for the San Joaquin River Exchange Contractors GSP Group in the Delta-Mendota Subbasin. According to the 1,750-page city staff report on the agenda item, the City of Los Banos resides within the Delta-Mendota Sub-basin. The Delta-Mendota limits are roughly from Tracy in the north to Tranquility in the south. It is essentially bounded on the west by the coastal range and the east by the San Joaquin River.

The City of Los Banos is the exclusive Groundwater Sustainability Agency (GSA) for the portion of the Delta-Mendota Subbasin within the jurisdictional boundaries of the City. The GSP Group of the City of Los Banos GSA is in collaboration with the following: City of Dos Palos GSA, City of Newman GSA, City of Firebaugh GSA, City of Gustine GSA, City of Mendota GSA, portion of Merced County GSA, portion of Fresno County Area B GSA, portion of Madera County 3 GSA, San Joaquin River Exchange Contractors GSA and the Turner Island Water District GSA.

The Restaurant Whisperer

Andy English

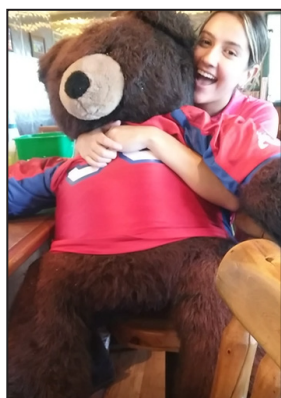

Over the course of time, this "foodie" column will take readers on a culinary journey to some of the scores of local family-owned dining restaurants in Los Banos. We will gain an objective and insightful history on the evolution of their locations and menus, including their 'hidden' menus. We will highlight their signature dishes. Most importantly we will meet the customer-facing (front of house or FOH) front line and also behind-the-scenes (back of house or BOH) hard-working people who provide you high-value meals with healthy options and delivered with excellent service. We might even share a restaurant recipe now and again. Bon Voyage!

Let's start with some local history. The first restaurants in Los Banos were dining halls in country inns, boarding houses, saloons and canteens. They provided hard labor nourishment to the initial German, Irish, French, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, French, Mexican and Chinese immigrants with trades predominantly in ranching, farming, and the railway. As the population increased and evolved, many family-owned restaurants came and went as the demographic melting pot shifted to a now predominantly Hispanic population. Many of the original immigrants have left their mark and are still represented by many other independently owned and franchised family restaurants that have moved into the area.

This column is dedicated to you, the customer and the restaurant employees that are trying their very best to provide you with a wonderful dining experience. The restaurants 'reviewed' are in no particular order and will only be looked at based on the objective positive contribution they provide to the community. Statistically it is well documented that about 99% of all new restaurants fail within the first six months. This industry as a whole is one of the most difficult business models from an investment perspective. Many people enter and most fail. The sad thing is most investors think they can extrapolate their mother's recipes or personal food choices to a restaurant business model. That is not how it works. It requires more dedication and hours than any other business after healthcare. That's because food is required for energy sustenance, health and wisdom.

I am not a restaurant reviewer or critic. I am an objective local resident restaurant customer of local restaurants with over thirty years who has seen the best restaurant cuisine at the hardest working family

Who is this customer-facing cook at this historic family restaurant in Los Banos and what artisanal food does he serve?

restaurants come and go while the rest have languished under the protective umbrella of the goal for corporate profits. Food should be about the people, not the corporations. Food should remind you about your favorite dishes and what you culturally were brought up with. Food should be fresh and served with flair. Food has been passionately epitomized by my favourite movie "Ratatouille". Let's start our journey together in Los Banos and enjoy the best.

Los Banos man charged with drug trafficking while on probation

Suspect with history of arrests faces up to 40 years in prison, $5 million fine

By U.S. Attorney's Office, Eastern District of California

FRESNO, Calif. — A Federal Grand Jury returned a one-count indictment on May 26 against Joshymar Estrada, 33, of Los Banos, charging him with possession with intent to distribute a controlled substance, U.S. Attorney Phillip A. Talbert announced.

On April 28, 2022, the Los Banos Police Department, along with members of the Merced County Probation Department and Special Agents with the Department of Homeland Security conducted a probation compliance check at Estrada's home in the 500 Block of Hardwood Court. While officers attempted to contact Estrada at the front door, he ran out of the back door and threw two canvas bags over his backyard fence. The bags contained more than a kilogram of cocaine, including approximately 380 bags in various quantities packaged for distribution.

Officers detained Estrada and conducted a search of his residence according to the conditions of his probation. Officers also seized additional cocaine, a number of unidentified pill, and a digital scale.

Estrada was booked into the Los Banos Police Department, without bail, charged with possession of cocaine for the purposes of sales and violation of probation conditions.

This case is the product of an investigation by the Los Banos Police in prison and a $5 million fine. Any sentence, however, would be determined at the discretion of the court after consideration of any applicable statutory factors and the Federal Sentencing Guidelines, which take into account a number of variables. The charges are only allegations; the defendant is presumed Department, the Merced County Probation Department, and Homeland Security Investigations. Assistant U.S. Attorney Jessica A. Massey is prosecuting the case.

If convicted, Estrada faces a maximum statutory penalty of 40 years innocent until and unless proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Suspect has History of Arrests

According to localcrimenews.com, Estrada has a history of arrests dating back to 2015, including by the Merced County Sheriff's Department for revocation of probation in May of that year, 11350(A) - Possession of Narcotic Controlled Substance, 1203.2 - Revocation of Probation, 273A(A) - Child Endangerment, 496(A) - Receiving Or Concealing Stolen Property, 11370.1 - Possessing a Controlled Substance While Armed with Loaded Firearm, and 11353(C) - Adult Sell Controlled Substance to Minor on Oct. 29, 2015; and for 11378 - Possessing a Controlled Substance For Sale 11379 - Transportation/Selling A Controlled Substance, 11351 - Possession Controlled Substance for Sale, and 11352 - Sale or Transportation of a Controlled Substance on March 7, 2019.

Then on Feb. 29, 2020, Estrada was arrested by Los Banos Police for 11350(A) - Possession of Narcotic Controlled Substance, 23152(A) - DUI Alcohol/Drugs, 23152(B) - DUI Alcohol with BAC greater than .08 and 23550(A) - Driving While Under Influence with Prior Specified on April 4, this year, by West Covina Police for 11370.9A - Knowingly Receiving or Acquiring Proceeds With The Intent to Conceal Nature or Ownership which is defined as money laundering in connection with drug crimes. *Allen D. disclosed in connection with the June 27, 2022 update of its Firearms Dashboard Portal. Based on the Department's current investigation, the incident exposed the personal information of individuals who were granted or denied a concealed and carry weapons (CCW) permit between 2011-2021.

Information exposed included names, date of birth, gender, race, driver's license number, addresses, and criminal history. Social Security numbers or any financial information were not disclosed as a result of this event. Additionally, data from the following dashboards were also impacted: Assault Weapon Registry, Handguns Certified for Sale, Dealer Record of Sale, Firearm Safety Certificate, and Gun Violence Restraining Order dashboards. DOJ is investigating the extent to which any personally identifiable information could have been exposed from those dashboards and will report additional information as soon as confirmed.

"This unauthorized release of personal information is unacceptable and falls far short of my expectations for this department," said Attorney General Rob Bonta. "I immediately launched an investigation into how this occurred at the California Department of Justice and will take strong corrective measures where necessary. The California Department of Justice is entrusted to protect Californians and their data. We acknowledge the stress this may cause those individuals whose information was exposed. I am deeply disturbed and angered."

On the afternoon of June 27, 2022, DOJ posted updates to the Firearms Dashboard Portal. DOJ was made aware of a disclosure of personal information that was accessible in a spreadsheet on the portal. After DOJ learned of the data exposure, the department took steps to remove the information from public view and shut down the Firearms Dashboard yesterday morning. The dashboard and data were available for less than 24 hours.

In the coming days, the Department will notify those individuals whose data was exposed and provide additional information and resources. California law requires a business or state agency to notify any California resident whose unencrypted personal information, as defined, was acquired, or reasonably believed to have been acquired, by an unauthorized person.

DOJ asks that anyone who accessed such information respect the privacy of the individuals involved and not share or disseminate any of the personal information. In addition, possession of or use of personal identifying information for an unlawful purpose may be a crime. (See Cal Penal Code Sec. 530.5.)

We are communicating with law enforcement partners throughout the state. In collaboration, we will provide support to those whose information has been exposed.

In an abundance of caution, the Department of Justice will provide credit monitoring services for individuals whose data was exposed as a result of this incident. DOJ will directly contact individuals who have been impacted by this incident and will provide instructions to sign up for this service.

Any Californian may take the following steps to immediately protect their information related to credit:

Monitor your credit. One of the best ways to protect yourself from identity theft is to monitor your credit history. To obtain free copies of your credit reports from the three major credit bureaus go to <https://www.annualcreditreport.com>. Consider placing a free credit freeze on your credit report. Identity thieves will not be able to open a new credit account in your name while the freeze is in place. You can place a credit freeze by contacting each of the three major credit bureaus:

Equifax: <https://www.equifax.com/personal/credit-report-services/credit-freeze/>; 888-766-0008
Experian: <https://www.experian.com/freeze/center.html>; 888-397-3742

TransUnion: <https://www.transunion.com/credit-freeze>; 800-680-7289

Place a fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert helps protect you against the possibility of someone opening new credit accounts in your name. A fraud alert lasts 90 days and can be renewed. To post a fraud alert on your credit file, you must contact one of the three major credit reporting agencies listed above. Keep in mind that if place a fraud alert with any one of the three major credit reporting agencies, the alert will be automatically added by the other two agencies as well.

Additional Resources. If you are a victim of identity theft, contact your local police department or sheriff's office right away. You may also report identity theft and generate a recovery plan using the Federal Trade Commission's website at identitytheft.gov. For more information and resources visit the Attorney General's website at oag.ca.gov/idtheft.

Five Strike Fitness martial artists represent Los Banos at national Muay Thai competition

By Amber Pope and Ben Hudson

The Strike Fight Team took five home grown athletes to the highest level of Muay Thai competition available in the United States, the Thai Boxing Association Classic (TBA) at the Muay Thai World Expo in Des Moines, Iowa June 22-26. Muay Thai is the Art of the Eight Limbs and clinch. The legal weapons are punches, elbows, kicks, and knees. The clinch has been referred to as stand-up grappling where both opponents are fighting for posture, position, and control to land dominating strikes in close range.

Head Coach Amber Pope gives instructions to Nashi Ramirez.

The ref raises the hand of “Nasty” Nashi Ramirez as she shouts for joy following the victory in her first bout of the national competition. Photos by Strike Fitness

The TBA has just completed their 15th year and continues to help advance Muay Thai in the US. The TBA offers Class A (13+ bouts), B (4-12 bouts) and C (0-3 bouts). This year they had over 1,000 athletes register, which is a record high for this event and shows how fast Muay Thai is growing year over year.

After registrations and final weigh-ins the TBA had over 800 competitors and did over 400 fights in four days. This is also the only tournament in the US that allows professional Muay Thai fighters to register for Class A.

We would like to take a moment and introduce to you those athletes that represented Los Banos at the TBAs this year.

Patrick Zapien walked into Strike in 2019 in search of a new fitness experience. Patrick is a teacher in Los Banos, an artist, fitness guru, and now a martial artist. When he started, he could not kick the pads above leg level, but he was determined to improve.

As his passion grew so did his drive. Patrick is hands down one of the hardest workers on the team and what he found was a new challenge that changed his lifestyle. In January 2020 he decided he wanted to compete, and he did everything that was asked of him and more. Patrick has transformed from an average athlete to an elite athlete and is becoming the best version of himself he can be.

He has competed in seven point Muay Thai bouts and one amateur bout. For his second amateur bout at the TBAs he competed in Class B at 147-153 lbs. and went against a more experienced opponent from a tough camp. Mr. Z didn't get the win due to a TKO but what he learned from the loss is much more valuable than a win, metal or trophy. He is back to the grind working towards his third amateur bout.

Isabel Diaz walked into Strike in 2019 because her brother told her she needed to workout. She was quiet, uncomfortable and nervous for she was not physical and did not play sports. Isabel picked up the technique quickly, but didn't believe in her potential. She started competing in September 2019 and has competed in 14 point Muay Thai bouts, eight amateur bouts and two grappling tournaments. Many will choose the easy road or fight, but she has competed against some of the top fighters from the very beginning of her fight career. Isabel also competed in multiple weight classes. At TBAs, Izzy competed in Class A 102-107 lbs. and faced a top ranked opponent with roughly 20+ amateur bouts. Isabel's mental game is starting to match her skill game and it showed in this bout. She was dominating from the outside but lost but lost in the clinch. Isabel is coming back stronger and preparing for her MMA debut in August.

Nashi Ramirez walked into Strike in 2019 because she thought it sounded overcome but her improvement shows in every fight.

She has competed in 17 point Muay Thai bouts, two amateur Muay Thai bouts, three amateur MMA bouts, and one grappling tournament. At the TBAs "Nasty" Nashi competed in Class A at 112-117 lbs. and fought twice. She won her first bout on a split decision on Day 2, but lost her second, facing two very different style fighters and didn't make the proper adjustments. We are already seeing the value of this loss in Nashi's current training, and she will be back more polished for her fourth MMA bout this September.

Isaiah and Elijah Cortez walked into Strike in 2019 and quickly moved through our kids' program to our adults' program. The twins are ranked junior wrestling champions and are on their way to becoming Muay Thai champions, as well. At 16 years old they have competed in seven point these young warriors into the Muay Thai community.

Our wins are amazing, but our losses have more value for our growth. We are a young camp, taking on camps that have been around for decades and competing against some of the best in the United States. We will continue to build, learn, and grow! We are thankful to our 2022 sponsors for making this trip possible and that the entire team came home healthy with no injuries. The Strike

Fight Team will be taking two adults and six to eight juniors to the USMTO tournament this September in Arizona!
